

D. C. MEN HELD ON LIQUOR
CHARGE IN BALTIMORE

Suspects Halted by Officers, Who Shoot Holes in Automobile Tires.

BALTIMORE, November 23 (Special).—Captured by three colored men who are agents of the prohibition enforcement bureau, after a chase of several miles on the B&O road, Joseph L. Collins, twenty-nine years old, and James McIntruff, twenty-two years old, both of Washington, were held in jail by United States Commissioner Sullivan yesterday afternoon, charged with transporting five cases of whisky. The former was held in $2,000 bail and the latter $1,000.

Collins and McIntruff were riding in a roadster automobile to Baltimore, when they were ordered to halt by Arthur Davidson, one of the three colored agents, who were in a motor truck. Thinking the colored agents were highwaymen, Collins and McIntruff said they increased the speed of their machine and were getting away from the truck when the colored men punctured the rear tires of their machine with pistol bullets, causing them to stop.

The two Washingtonians refused to say where they were taking the whisky or where they secured it. Collins is alleged to have shot at Agent Rose, one of the men making the arrest, and McIntruff is alleged to have made an attempt to bribe Agents Rose and Davidson.

DISCUSS BANQUET PLANS AND CHOOSE OFFICERS

Members of D. C. Society, Mayflower Descendants, at New Willard in Annual Meeting.

Discussion of plans for the yearly banquet of the organization and the election of officers for the ensuing year were the outstanding features of the twenty-third annual meeting of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the District of Columbia, held last evening in the parlors of the New Willard. The banquet, which is scheduled for the same hotel December 18, is expected to be of particular importance owing to the fact that 1920 marks the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims. Speakers of national reputation are being secured and it is hoped that the attendance will be a record one.

Titles of the society's officers are reminiscent of the personnel of the old Mayflower and the colonists she carried. Ernest W. Bradford was elected governor; Carter B. Keene was chosen deputy governor; Frederick W. Mitchell, captain; Rev. John D. Huddle, elder; Frank H. Briggs, secretary; Frank Bond, treasurer; Albert W. Aspinwall, historian, and Dr. Stuart C. Johnson, surgeon.

Reports of officers submitted showed the affairs of the organization to be in excellent condition, with the enrollment of new members during the past year the largest in its history. The report on banquet arrangements was submitted by Col. Thomas S. Hopkins and William W. Washburn. Miss Slaughter gave several solo songs, while Prof. George L. Raymond delivered a scholarly talk on the character of the Mayflower fathers and their influence on American and world civilization.

HOW NEWS IS COVERED.

How a newspaper knows what is going to happen, where and when, was explained to part of the reading public, as represented by the class in journalism of the George Washington University, yesterday afternoon, by C. D. Keller, city editor of The Evening Star.

Mr. Keller brought an assignment book with him to the class, and showed the students how events, past, present and future, are recorded in the information of the reporter's staff. This assignment book, Mr. Keller showed, represented a diary of what has happened during the year within society. Mr. Keller is one of a number of newspaper men who have addressed the class.

TRIBUTE TO PILGRIMS.

Pupils at the Wallace Towers group school staged a pageant on the school playground yesterday afternoon in observance of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims. Children representing each grade from the first to the eighth participated.

The pageant depicted how the Pilgrims were persecuted in England and sailed for America in search of religious freedom, and concluded with the establishment of their colony in the New England states.
